Clue #3 Named after the founder's father, this deli was started by a family who trained in sausage making in Switzerland and Germany before emigrating to Canada.

Clue #5 This foodie destination's website states: "When you open the door to (these food products) for the first time, it's like walking into that Wonka dude's chocolate factory, or seeing your first 3D movie on the big screen." What food products are they talking about?
